

Where are we going?

Where are we now?

focused team

In business, as in our own lives, not seeing clearly where we are going and what's in our way leads to unwanted consequences: bumping into obstacles, headaches and stress, to name but a few.

Are you and your team seeing clearly enough where you are in your project / business, where you need to be and the way to get there?

Get a boost of team focus and cohesion around your vision, mission and goals, and the best path to achieve them!

Less risk, more fun, better business

What you get:

Your team focused on the right things,
in the right order, at the right time

Along the way:

- ▶ know your team's strengths and weaknesses
- ▶ resolve team issues and build team cohesion
- ▶ align your team on Vision, Mission, Values, Goals and Strategy
- ▶ build skills where required
- ▶ enhance internal communication
- ▶ develop Key Performance Indicators that motivate your team and ensure success

"The two-day team building we did with astoneco management left our team highly motivated due to the clarity we all achieved around our core team values and what our goals were for the year ahead – it was an invaluable experience and great fun too."
